PICTURESQUE PORT ORANGE

PORT ORANGE is a pretty little village situated five miles south of Daytona on the Daytona-New Smyrna hard-surface road, the scenic highway of the East Coast. The town is located on the Halifax River, and is connected with the peninsula opposite by a bridge.

The town is well laid out and has many pretty homes. A large number of tourists and winter residents make Port Orange winter headquarters, one of the several attractions being the excellent fishing.

A short distance west of Port Orange are the remains of the old Dunlawton sugar mill, a place that is visited every year by hundreds of tourists. One time all the country west of Port Orange, surrounding the old mill, was a vast indigo and sugar cane plantation. The mill was operated extensively in those early days but has been in disuse for forty or fifty years.

A very interesting drive from Daytona is by ocean beach to the approach of the Port Orange bridge, across the bridge, and then passing through the principal street of Port Orange to the ruins of the sugar mill, returned to Daytona by the road on the mainland.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who has ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanses; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River. Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon the waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, with hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments, both solid and liquid, ready for a cruise upon this beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies and the wide spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live oaks extend their giant arms across the magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from the tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with African draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palm fronds; see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see the climbing vines run riot in the trees; see the cryptocarpus forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps, commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottages. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and, as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering, "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes which rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finishing and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed, it is the interior arrangement and artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that gives a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as another wonder.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed, but that such is a

DELAND, the county seat of Volusia County, is situated 23 miles southwest of Daytona and is reached from the latter city by an excellent hard-surface road recently constructed.

At Deland is located the John B. Stetson University, one of the leading educational institutions of the South. Because of the interest in matters educational Deland is known as "The Athens of Florida."

Stetson University has a faculty of 50 professors and instructors. There are over $400,000 in buildings and equipment; nearly $300,000 endowment; a Carnegie Library alone representing an investment in building, endowment and books, of more than $120,000. The library is the United States Government depository for the State of Florida, and contains over 15,000 volumes. Science Hall, one of the newest of 16 buildings, with its furnishings, represents an outlay of $60,000. Elizabeth Hall is one of the most beautiful college buildings in the South.

The city has a population of about 3,500, with a thickly settled country adjacent. Deland proper is five miles east of the St. Johns River, on the high, rolling pine land of the great "Orange Ridge" of Florida. The predominant products are oranges and grapefruit, the estimated crop from this vicinity being over 300,000 boxes this year. Grapes, peaches, pears, Japan persimmons, plums, pecans, guavas, strawberries and other fruits are grown in plenty. In the way of public improvements are many miles of fine shell roads, an excellent high school, electric lights, a system of waterworks that is owned and operated by the city, supplying the purest water at little cost.

Nine houses of worship testify that Deland is a church-going community. Baptists, Episcopalians, Methodists (Northern and Southern), Presbyterians, Christians and Catholics, besides colored Baptists and Methodists, are represented. The graded school offers a ten years' course, and the building which it occupies is newly furnished throughout, and is one of the most commodious and best equipped public schools in the State.

The trip from Daytona to Deland is made by automobile in a little over an hour, and there are many pretty drives in the vicinity of the county site. A good road leads to DeLeon Springs, five miles, a historic spot, where 60,000 gallons of water bubble from the earth every minute. From Deland automobiles go south to Osteen, 18 miles, on shell and marl roads; the St. Johns is crossed by ferry near Osteen and cars can then continue to Sanford and Orlando by hard road. There is a shell road from Deland to Orange City, five miles, and a good road from Deland to Lake Helen, a like distance.

LAKE HELEN
Surrounded by several pretty lakes and guarded by lofty pine trees is Lake Helen, a winter resort of no little importance. Camp Cassadaga, a spiritualistic camp-ground is situated near Lake Helen and at this place several hundred people make winter headquarters. A large lumber mill and the largest brick plant in the South are located at Lake Helen.

ORANGE CITY
The principal attraction around Orange City is the many handsome golden orange groves. The town is supplied with water said to be the purest in the world, another attraction to visitors. It is at Orange City that passengers over the Florida East Coast Ry. transfer to carriages and drive to Deland. The town is surrounded by land peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of citrus fruits.

MOVEMENT FOR GOOD ROADS URGED BY ONE CANDIDATE.

ZUBER SAYS VOLUSIA COUNTY SHOULD DO EVERYTHING POSSIBLE FOR HIGHWAY BETWEEN HERE AND ST. AUGUSTINE.

Editor Daily News.—I see that the county commissioners of St. Johns county are interesting themselves in good roads for the east coast. I hope the county commissioners and our Board of Trade here will take this matter up with the St. Augustine people and push this road through to success. This road could easily be carried through by Ormond, crossing the Tomoka somewhere near the Thompson creek, striking the old stage road and going through the Harwood tract, going by the old Spanish forts and sugar mills, crossing at Bulow, where it would intersect Green's island.

There is a road nearly through on this line and there is marl and shell, which if graded would make it almost a hard surface road, and would be the shortest and most direct route, and would give a magnificent view and a most attractive driveway.

This would be a better route than the peninsula as it would bring people to the Daytona side who would never come here otherwise, and it would not be detrimental to Seabreeze and Daytona Beach for they would naturally go there for bathing.

NEW YORK PARTY ARRIVES; RECEIVES WARM RECEPTION.

As the 5:30 p. m. Florida Special pulled into the local station Saturday, it had among its many passengers Hon. Geo. M. Bostwick, Hon. A. Weber and Capt. James Reage. U. S. A., all of Schenectady, N. Y.

Waiting with their large touring cars to escort them to the Saratoga Inn were Hon. Chas. D. Beckwith and Hon. Harmon D. Swits, of Schenectady, also James H. Baker's car of Saratoga Springs, N. Y. The colored Orphan's band occupied one car and led the procession through Volusia avenue and Beach street.

Upon arriving at the hotel the band was stationed near the steps and amid the strains of "Star Spangled Banner" and "Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," the honored arrivals were greeted by the many guests who were stationed conveniently on the large porch and on the balconies, while red fire and cheers were very much in evidence. Those to shake hands with the three popular Dorpians were:

Mrs. Charles D. Beckwith and Charles, Jr., Mrs. Harmon D. Swits, and Harmon, Jr.; Miss M. K. Chapman, Miss Van Wagner, Benj. Ryall and Mrs. Ryall, Mrs. Geo. C. Otis, Mrs. S. Denis, Daniel J. Cleary, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Vincent, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. R. Boyce, Robert Humphries, F. B. Vincent, Mary Barker, Mary Driscoll, Col. and Mrs. John J. Taylor, Mrs. C. C. Jennings, Mrs. F. F. Moon, Mrs. E. A. Dupuy, Geo. M. Marlette, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Baker and lastly Chas. D. Beckwith and Harmon D. Swits, who were responsible for the affair.

HE WON THE HOUSE.

Ned Harrigan's Plea at a Critical Point in a Play.

Edward Harrigan once said that the most trying moment in his theatrical career occurred in New Orleans soon after the civil war. He had gone south with his company and, yielding somewhat to popular request, put on "The Blue and the Gray." The play had been a success up north, but down south, with the air still full of the bitterness of the war, it was a dangerous experiment. Tony Hart was to represent the Confederate gray, so he hunted up a uniform of the Louisiana Tigers, and when he came marching on, young, stalwart, handsome, the typical soldier boy in the beloved uniform, the house, men and women, cheered and shouted and cried for all their heroes embodied in this boy. Harrigan, standing in the wings in his northern blue, waiting to go on, had just one thought—"They'll kill me!" Then he stepped out, the embodiment of the enemy, and a cold, dead silence fell upon the house. Not a hand moved for him. The audience was tense with emotion, and there was only an instant to act if the play was to be saved. Harrigan, big, kindly, good looking, came swiftly down to the front and stepped over the footlight gutter, leaning down to them. "For the love of heaven, won't you give the Yankee a hand?" he exclaimed. At once the house was caught and all the pentup feeling turned the right way. There was a yell of applause.

RULE OF THE ROAD.

Decided Abroad by the Sword and Here by the Gun.

Several travelers were seated in the hotel lobby discussing the difference in customs of the various countries they had visited. "What struck me as most peculiar abroad," said one, "is the custom of keeping to the left instead of the right, as we do here.

Why is the rule reversed?

"I think I can explain that," said a reserved looking man in the corner. "In medieval and later periods abroad men were in the custom of wearing swords. The sword was worn, as it is now, on the left side. Consequently in drawing their weapon it was done with the right hand, and to get quickly upon guard a man had to have his right side to his opponent; hence the custom of keeping to the left.

"In America when every man carried his life in his hand on account of savage Indians all men carried guns. The easiest and most natural way to carry a gun, either afoot or mounted, is over the left arm with the muzzle pointed outward, and it takes but a very slight movement to throw the butt against the right shoulder. For that reason the early settlers kept to the right of the road so their weapon could instantly be brought to bear on any mark that was necessary."—Philadelphia Times.

Romance of a Shadow.

It is hard to believe that a shadow is probably the origin of all astronomical, geometrical and geographical science. The first man who fixed his staff perpendicularly in the ground and measured its shadow was the earliest computer of time, and the Arab of today who plants his spear in the sand and marks where the shadow falls is his direct descendant. It is from the shadow of a gnomon that the early Egyptians told the length of the year. It is from the shadow of a gnomon that the inhabitants of upper Egypt still measure the hours of work for a water wheel. In this case the gnomon is a lburra stalk supported on forked uprights and points north and south. East and west are pegs in the ground evenly marking the space of earth between sunrise and sunset. In a land of constant sunshine a shadow was the primitive chronometer. It was also the primitive footrule.—London T. P.'s Weekly.

Excellent Hunting

NEW SMYRNA
FLORIDA

NEW SMYRNA is situated fifteen miles south of Daytona and is an ideal spot reached from Daytona by a hard surface road winding through one of the most picturesque parts of Florida.

With its ancient ruins dating back to a time when the history of man runneth not, interlaced with wires of the modern telegraph and telephone, its miles of shell streets as hard and smooth as a floor and over-arched by hoary forest giants that grew in stately grandeur during the lapse of bygone centuries, New Smyrna is truly a place of romance and rest.

All nature here is very inviting to the tourist and pleasure-seeker. Here too is to be found the best fishing and hunting in the state of Florida.

The people are thrifty, the business men enterprising, and all unite in extending the welcome hand of hospitality to strangers. There are five church edifices for white people and an equal number for the colored population; the town has an excellent high school, a splendid public library, and up-to-date business houses.

There are any number of pretty homes for the permanent population, which numbers close to 2,000, and some very fine winter residences. There are good hotels and boarding houses where you can find accommodations to meet your requirements.

Adjoining New Smyrna is as fine a section of vegetable land as can be found anywhere. This land has been divided into small farms which can be bought at reasonable prices. Some of the finest celery grown in the state is raised on this land. All other vegetables grow in abundance, and here, too, is the home of the famous Indian River oranges.

JUST GOSSIP BY THE GOSSIPER.

Daytona needs a good band. While the new Board of trade is talking about something for entertainment for the winter visitors here attention might be called to the fact that there is nothing that can quite take the place of open air concerts by a good band. The Halifax river front is a splendid place for holding open air concerts, the weather during the most of the winter months is ideal, the people here would appreciate this kind of entertainment and the only thing needed is the band. There is unquestionably plenty of musical talent in the city to organize a good band, the members to be selected from among the residents and tourists, and such a musical organization would probably be more appreciated at this time than any other kind of a society that could be formed to help entertain the tourists. Let's talk this matter over and see if there isn't talent enough in Daytona to form a good band.

The day after tomorrow is the time set for the annual city election and all voters in Daytona are urged to go to the polls and do their duty as American citizens by casting their ballots for the men whom their consciences say will be the most fitted to properly administer the municipal affairs. Who will be winners in the race is difficult to predict at this time, but it is safe to say there will be some disappointment felt by the majority of the candidates when the result of the voting has been announced Wednesday night.

The first action taken by the new Board of Trade at its meeting Friday evening was one which goes to show the Mayor and City Council that Daytona now has an organization of the business men which is on the lookout to see that this town is run right, and that when the City Council passes an ordinance which has for its object the boosting and upbuilding of the city the Mayor shall see that the ordinance is enforced. A motion passed at the meeting was to the effect that the Mayor be asked to enforce the ordinance relating to the drawing of papers and trash on yards and on the streets. It's a cinch but that if the Mayor doesn't respond promptly to this "request" from the board he will hear from that organization in mighty short order. It ought not to be necessary for a civic organization to "ask" that city laws be enforced, but when such a request is made it would better be looked after in double quick time.

If you want to know what is going on in and around this town go over and sit for an hour on the city hall bench and listen to the conversation. Not only are questions of vital importance to Daytona and vicinity brought up, discussed and settled at these daily sessions of the old-timers but every subject of state, national and international disputes touched upon by the bench statesmen, who usually know what they are talking about, and President Taft's cabinet might get some valuable information and suggestions if a representative could be sent down here for a conference. It's one of the best places in town to "get wise."

WHEAT MARKET STEADY; PRICES SHADE HIGHER.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—The wheat market opened steady today with prices a shade higher, easing off later on lack of demand. May was quoted at $95 3-4. Provisions were dull and firm with cattle five to ten cents higher.

Stage Show.

In "Personal Reminiscences of Henry Irving" Bram Stoker lets his readers into the secret of how the snow scene in "The Corsican Brothers" was made so effective:

"All over the stage was a thick blanket of snow, white and glistening in the winter sun—snow that lay so thick that when the duellists, stripped and armed, stood face to face they each secured a firmer foothold by clearing it away. Of many wonderful effects this snow was perhaps the strongest and most impressive of reality. The public could never imagine how it was done. It was salt—common coarse salt—white in the appointed light and glistening like real snow. There were tons of it. A crowd of men stood ready in the wings with little baggage trucks such as are now used in the corridors of great hotels, silent with rubber wheels. On them were great wide mouthed sacks full of salt. When the signal came they rushed in on all sides, each to his appointed spot, and tumbled out his load, spreading it evenly with great wide bladed wooden shovels."

Tuning Bells.

"What a beautiful tone that bell has!" is often heard. There are few, however, who know how a bell receives its joyful or solemn tones. All bells after they are cast and finished must go through a process of tuning the same as any other musical instrument before they respond with a clear, true tone. Every bell sounds five notes, which must blend together in order to produce perfect harmony. The tuning of a bell is done by means of shaving thin bits from various parts of the metal. It is as easy for an expert bell tuner to put a bell in tune as it is for a piano tuner to adjust his instrument to perfect chords. At first thought it would seem that a bell would be ruined should a tuner shave off too much at the last tuning, or the fifth sound, but such is not the case. He would, however, be obliged to begin over, starting again with the first tone and shaving the bell till it gave forth its harmonious sound at the fifth tone.—Scientific American.

No Clock Wanted.

There had been some talk of placing a clock in the tower of the village church. But John, the old sexton, who lived in the little cottage opposite the church, declared himself "dead again it" and expressed the opinion that it would mean "an awful waste of brass" were the scheme carried out.

"We want no clocks," he said the other day. "We've done without clocks up to now, and we shall manage. Why 'lyn' I my bed of a mornin' I can see the time by the sundial over the porch."

"Yes," replied one who approved of the scheme, "that's all right so far as it goes. But the sun doesn't shine every morning. What do you do then?"

"Why," answered John surprisedly. "I knows then as it ain't fit weather to be out o' bed, an' I just stops where I is."—London Tit-Bits.

The Lavish Jenkins.

In October, 1886, a religiously minded Buckinghamshire farmer named Jenkins brought his firstborn to the parish church to be christened, and this was to be the name: Abel Benjamin Caleb Daniel Ezra Felix Gabriel Haggai Isaac Jacob Kish Levi Noah Nehemiah Obdiah Peter Quartus Rechar Samuel Tobiah Uzziel Vaniah Word Xystus Zechariah. It will be observed that the names are all arranged in alphabetical order and are as far as possible selected from Scripture. It was only with the very greatest difficulty that the clergyman dissuaded Mr. Jenkins from doing the lasting wrong to his child that he had unwittingly devised, but eventually it was decided to christen the boy simply Abel.—Chambers' Journal.

SEABREEZE and DAYTONA BEACH, two enterprising and progressive towns on the Halifax Peninsula, are geographically one although incorporated as separate municipalities. The towns parallel the peninsula north and south for a distance of from three and one-half to four miles, and extend east and west from the surging seas of the Atlantic Ocean to the Halifax River, the beautiful tide water stream that sets them apart from Daytona with which they have close communion by means of three bridges, as well as a half-hour ferry service.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach are essentially summer and winter resorts and are making hundreds of new friends every year among those who desire to escape the discomforting extremes of heat and cold, and their hotels and boarding houses are now receiving splendid patronage from the most discriminating class of tourists.

The ocean itself, with its marvelous beach, hard as macadam and smooth as a floor, is the greatest attraction, although earth, air and sky seem to have entered into a combination to enhance its every charm. The beach is the famous automobile race course where every world's straight-away record has been made, and all these records it continues to hold without rivalry.

The beach has a width of 300 to 500 feet and can be used from two hours after every two hours before high tide, thus giving an average of seven or eight hours for automobilizing some part of each day.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach each have a permanent population of approximately 1500. Sanitary ordinances are strictly enforced, streets and sidewalks are well kept, and new streets are being opened as fast as the increasing population demands. Besides hotels and boarding houses there is ample cottage accommodation for all winter visitors in both towns.

All the attractiveness of Seabreeze applies to Daytona Beach, the two towns being so similarly situated. The development of Daytona Beach has been fully as phenomenal as its sister on the north, and each year there is a substantial growth. The great sand dunes have been leveled and handsome homes have been built for both winter and all-year-round occupancy.

PLEASANT ENTERTAINMENT AT THE HAMILTON HOTEL

GUESTS OF THE HOUSE AND OTHERS INVITED FOR THE OC-
CATION ENJOYED CHARACTER
SKETCHES BY ENTERTAINER.

Miss Helen Leslie Bates of New York, magazine writer and talented entertainer, charmed the guests of the Hamilton hotel and others invited for the occasion Saturday evening with a number of character sketches including Dutch, Dago, Zulu and Negro, her impersonation of all being most excellent.

As a fat German from Milwaukee, her description of how she stopped the dog barking was extremely funny and in the Italian part, the story of her introduction to the Japanese persimmon, while in California, would have made a wooden Indian shriek with laughter. Her impersonation, also, of both an old colored mammy and an old negro preacher were fine throughout and her illustration as to the way she felt at the conclusion of the entertainment was a corker and had to be seen to be appreciated or perhaps it might be said improperly appreciated.

The large dining room of the Hamilton was crowded to its utmost capacity. A corner of the room was enclosed by screens, forming a dressing room for Miss Bates' change of costume and above these screens at different times appeared some highly interesting placards, as did also the climax of the evening's fun. Miss Bates' discourse sparkled with wit and humor and her personal and local hits were extremely clever and apropos and she was greeted with hearty and well deserved applause at every performance.

Miss Bates took advantage of the opportunity to call attention to the concert to be given Thursday evening at the new Daytona Theater under the direction of Thos. W. Lane, the popular baritone.

A MAN'S WORK.

He who gives his whole soul to the spiritual uplift of the community and succeeds in cultivating faith, hope and charity among his fellows need not worry about any other tasks. He is doing a good man's full work.

Written on Trains.

As to writing in trains Mr. William Le Queux has told how he wrote his first novel on the morning and evening travels to and from town in the days when he was a subeditor on the Globe. But he sent his manuscript to a typist before a publisher. Sir Lewis Morris also confessed that he wrote most of the "Epic of Hades" in his journeys on the old steam traction underground. —London Chronicle.

The Sickly Golf Players.

A golf player who had been badly beaten by his opponent explained to him that he had been suffering all day from neuritis. "It's a curious thing," replied his opponent, "but I've never beaten a man in perfect health in my life."

Marriage in Scotland.

Boys over fourteen years of age and girls over twelve may marry in Scotland without the consent of parents.

Pitt and the Peerage.

The exclusive and almost feudal character of the English peerage was destroyed finally and of set purpose by Pitt when he declared that every man who had an estate of £1000 a year had a right to be a peer. In Lord Beaconsfield's words: "He created a plebeian aristocracy and blended with the patrician oligarchy. He made peers of second rate squires and fat graziers. He caught them in the alleys of London street and clutched them from the counting houses of Cornhill." —London Chronicle.

Cravvy.

"You spoke very admiringly of that man's courage."

"Yes."

"But he was never a soldier or a fireman or a policeman."

"No, but he eats mushrooms that he has gathered himself."

ORMOND-ON-THE-HALIFAX

ORMOND is 5 miles north of Daytona, located on the west side of the Halifax River. The location permits of a fine drainage and the elevation is superb and ideal for winter homes. A wide bridge connects Ormond with Daytona Beach.

Many fine homes are maintained on either side of the river, most of them surrounded by subtropical flora and shrubbery, besides sherry orange and other citrus fruit trees.

Ormond has many attractions—excellent automobiles, good fishing, safe boating, and many pleasant drives. At Ormond Beach is located the large Hotel Ormond, and the lesser sister, the Ormond Inn. The former occupies a position overlooking the Halifax, and the latter has as its outlook the magnificent beach and the broad Atlantic.

Besides the broad, smooth beach there are many drives for bridges and automobiles around Ormond—drives to and through groves of golden oranges; drives through tropical forests to Spanish ruins; drives to the ancient Causeway built by slaves of planters of long ago, and drives to the plantations of hospitable settlers, whose places are replete with the interest of Southern fruits and flowers.

One of the most interesting of these plantations is at the headwaters of the Halifax and known as Moundgrove. It is one of the finest orange groves on the East Coast of Florida and is amid very pretty surroundings. Moundgrove is on the Daytona-Saint Augustine road.

Drop in with me at ORMOND. If the old log do not go out in the hurricane you'll find the world has been here no such comfortable winter and grounds as in the above of the Halifax. —JOSE FISHERMAN.

HEYMANN'S
PLATFORM
IS STATED.TELLS WHAT HE WILL DO
IF ELECTED TO COUNCIL.IN LETTER FROM HAVANA CANDIDATE TELLS WHAT SHOULD BE DONE TO MAKE DAYTONA A BETTER CITY.

In a letter to the Daily News, written at Havana, Cuba, Simon Heymann clearly states the planks of the platform on which he is making the race for councilman in the coming city election and gives some ideas of what may be expected of him if he is elected a member of the city council. Mr. Heymann is at present visiting his son in Cuba and says if he is elected he will return to Daytona at once. His letter is as follows:

Editor Daily News:—I think I owe the voters of our city some explanation why I stepped out of the race for mayor, and accepted the nomination for councilman.

After consideration, I find that in the council I can serve the interests of the city better than in the former. The mayor may recommend, but the council acts, and is the working body of the city officials.

In asking for the votes of the qualified voters, I may not meet with the approval of all, but if all will look upon my intended work, they will find that it is solely for the betterment of the city and for its enlargement.

Boards of trade are very good, but it is capital which will do more to build a large city than words and talk.

We need capital to build a large and first class hotel, or across the river will get up a competitive Daytona at our expense.

We need sewers, and parks for the entertainment of tourists.

My object to be a member of the council is to bring about these and other matters, for instance, to continue the excellent policy of the present council in the work upon the streets, to organize a legal fire department, so as to get a lower rate of insurance, to procure free delivery of the mails, and sub-stations in the western part of the city, and obtain from the railroad commissioners of the state a railroad depot such as we need.

It may not be known to all the voters that prior to 1905 only property holders could vote on the city borrowing money. By an amendment in 1905, the legislature apparently gave the voting power on this to all voters. My object is to restore to the property holders the privilege to alone accept or reject the borrowing of money by the city. It is the taxpayer who should approve or disapprove the increasing of taxes.

This may not be agreeable to such voters who are not property holders, but it is the only safe method of inviting capital, by making investors safe in their investments.

Another matter which would tend to invite capital is to give capital a right to have a voice in bond issue. Nonresidents pay most of the taxes, but are not even asked if it suits them to increase the city debt.

I propose to so amend the city charter that when it comes to issuing bonds, borrowing money, or giving away a franchise, that two-thirds of all the property owners shall give their consent in writing to issuing bonds, borrowing of money, or giving of a franchise, before it is voted on by the qualified voters.

With such safety, the city will be able to improve and enlarge our city, and give prosperity and employment to the working man, and to the business man.

I ask all citizens who agree with me, to give me their support.

Yours truly,
SIMON HEYMAN
Havana, Cuba, Feb. 1, 1911.

COWBOYS OF SPAIN.

Splendid Horsemen, but They Use Their Spurs Without Mercy.

The perfection of Spanish horsemanship is to be seen among the vaqueros, ganaderos and garrochistas, by which various names the mounted herdsmen of the Andalusian plains are known—in brief, what we should call a cowboy. Every farm seems to maintain a large number of these, for each herd, flock or drove has its own herdsman, goatherd or swineherd, as the case may be. The vaqueros are a fine looking lot of men. Tall, thin, light and loosely made, they look ideal horsemen, as, in point of fact, they are though their mounts are poor.

The vaquero rides very high on a huge saddle, with a long stirrup and straight leg, using a single rein and a very heavy curb, but he has such beautiful hands that, although using this barbarous bit, he never cuts his horse's mouth about. It is different with the animal's sides, however, for he uses his spurs without mercy, and the white horses—of which there are a large number—all have ominous red stains behind the girths.

All the herdsmen who look after cattle carry a long lance, called a garrocha, of thick and heavy wood, which, except when standing still, they always carry "in rest" and not "at the carry," presumably on account of its great length and possibly its weight. With this weapon, in the use of which he acquires amazing dexterity, the garrochista is able to control the most unruly brutes in the herd, not excepting the savage fighting bull.—Wide World Magazine.

How a Dying Man Feels.

Numerous experiments made in hospitals and upon heroic scientists who have permitted tests to be made upon themselves right down to the moment of death warrant these conclusions: That a dying man may be burned with red-hot irons and yet not feel the least pain; that consciousness may remain in the dying almost to the moment of actual dissolution, but that most people generally lose the power of thought long before death; that in cases of death where there seems to be extreme suffering, with writhing and spasms, such phenomena are generally due to reflex muscular action; also that fear weakens the muscular system and hastens death, while the reverse may prolong life.

View Obstructed.

"What's the trouble?" asked the clerk. "Isn't your room satisfactory?"

"Yes," answered the guest at the big skyscraper hotel, "but I want those clouds pushed away from my windows."—Hotel World.

CARILDA HAS ENOUGH OF INLAND WATERWAY AND WILL TAKE TO OCEAN TO FINISH TRIP TO MIAMI.

Owner Francis Holley of the yacht Carilda has had enough of the East Coast inland waterway and at Mosquito inlet will take to the ocean to complete the trip to Miami.

The Carilda, which is about 50 feet in length and draws 4½ feet of water, has been just a week making the trip from Jacksonville to Daytona, delays being occasioned by being frequently stuck in the mud.

The Carilda is from New York enroute south and on board Mr. Holley has as his guests W. R. Curtis and Stewart H. Elliott of New York. The men all declare they have had enough sailing in the mud and prefer to take to the broad, blue Atlantic, running chances on the breakers, where they will have plenty of water.

The final delay on the run to Daytona was encountered when the yacht plowed her nose into the mud at the head of the Halifax river Sunday afternoon and stuck for good. All efforts to release the vessel from her position were useless and Mr. Stewart was dispatched to Daytona in search of help. Capt. Ellenwood was engaged and went to the head of the river in the Dixie. He succeeded in pulling the yacht loose and towed it down to the Central bridge Monday forenoon. After tying up here for a time the Carilda continued her journey south.

The annual meeting for the election of officers of the Daytona Volunteer Fire Department will be held tonight at the City Hall.

*Will exchange a 5 or 7 passenger 1907 White touring car in good running condition with $350 worth of extras for real estate in Seabreeze or Daytona Beach. Address box 135, Daytona Beach. 57tf

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF LARCENY.

TRAVELING MAN BOUND OVER;
MUST ANSWER TO THE COURT.

CLAIM IS THAT HE TOOK $57 FROM THE POCKET OF HIS SLEEPING COMPANION AT THE CITY HOTEL.

H. H. Englehart, a traveling salesman, was arrested Saturday by Marshal Gore on complaint of R. L. Tignor, another traveling salesman, who charged Englehart with having extracted $57 out of his pocketbook while both occupied one room at the City Hotel Friday night.

The two men were out with some friends Friday night and when they returned to the City Hotel late in the night the claim is made that Tignor insisted on Englehart sleeping with him. Englehart is alleged to have arisen early Saturday morning, leaving Tignor still sleeping, and gone for a walk.

When Tignor awoke and examined his pocketbook, it is alleged he found that $57 had been removed and he immediately suspected the man who had occupied the same bed with him and arisen earlier had taken the money. Consequently he had Englehart arrested.

The accused man was given a preliminary hearing before Justice Titus Monday morning and bound over to the criminal court for further examination. He stoutly denies having taken the money from Tignor.

THREE PERSONS FINED IN THE MAYOR'S COURT.

In the mayor's court Saturday E. Simms was fined $1 for driving without a light. Charles B. Griffin was fined $5 for speeding an automobile. Arthur Hamm was fined $1 for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk.
